Professional Members shall have completed academic coursework and training in the assessment or remediation of neuropsychological conditions and hold a doctoral degree from an accredited university. While it is expected that the primary area of focus of training and experience falls in the general discipline of psychology, individuals with doctoral degrees in related disciplines with relevant experience and training in neuropsychology at the doctoral or postdoctoral level may also be considered for membership. Applicants shall have worked in settings where such knowledge is applied for a minimum of three years, two of which must be postdoctoral.

Associate Members are required to hold a master's degree in psychology or a related discipline, or hold a doctoral degree in psychology or a related discipline with less than three years of experience in Neuropsychology. Associate members do not have voting privileges, may not hold office; but they may be members of committees.

Affiliate Membership is open to those individuals who are interested in clinical neuropsychology and wish to maintain continuing contact with the field, but whose training may preclude them from membership at other levels. Affiliates do not have voting privileges, may not hold office and can be members of committees.

Post-Doctoral Resident Membership is available for two years after completion of a doctoral degree in psychology for those who are completing post-doctoral supervision/studies leading to psychology licensure. Student members who meet the eligibility requirements for Post-Doctoral Resident status may make application to the Membership Committee by written request and verification that the aforementioned criterion has been met. Post-Doctoral Resident members are eligible to serve on NAN Committees, although voting privileges and holding office is reserved for Professional and Fellow level members.

Student (Pre-Doctoral) Membership is open to individuals attending full-time programs leading to an undergraduate or graduate degree from a regionally accredited college or university. Those who have completed related doctoral programs, are refocusing their completed doctoral training with additional coursework or certification in neuropsychology, and/or are currently completing post-doctoral training may instead apply for post-doctoral resident, affiliate, or associate membership, as relevant. Student members are eligible to serve on committees, although voting privileges and holding office is reserved for Professional and Fellow level members.
